Clear Liquid Diet Instructions

Starting the day prior to your procedure you will be on a clear liquid diet. The clear liquid diet needs to start at 12AM – this means you cannot have a solid breakfast and then start the clear liquid diet. Liquids cannot have any seeds or pulps, as this will prevent you from having a good preparation and a successful procedure. Avoid anything with red and purple coloring.

Remember, you will also be taking the bowel prep kit prescribed to your pharmacy the day before, starting at 7 PM. The clear liquid diet will continue through the morning of your procedure. However, four hours before your procedure start time, you cannot have anything by mouth (nothing to drink).
